To thee, my darling Hattie, I dedicate the Sea-Flower would that this casket contained for such as thou, a purer gem. PREFACE. In writing the following pages the author has spent pleasant hours, which perhaps might have been less profitably employed: if anything of interest be found among them, it is well, --and, should any be led to take up their Cross in meekness and humility, searching out the path that leads the wanderer home, it is indeed well. NATALIE. CHAPTER I. THE SEA-FLOWER. What was it that I loved so well about my childhoods home It was the wide and wave-lashed shore, the black rocks crowned with foam! It was the sea-gulls flapping wing, all trackless in its flight, Its screaming note, that welcomed on the fierce and stormy night! The wild heath had its flowers and moss, the forest had its trees, Which, bending to the evening wind, made music in the breeze But earth, --ha! ha! I laugh een now, --earth had no charms for me, Nor...
