E5523 2004b OCLC Number: (OCoLC)57226112 Subject: High performance computing -- Research -- Law and legislation -- United States. Excerpt: . . . ge National Laboratory in Tennessee was selected as the winner of its competition to develop a leadership class computational facility. ORNL will lead an effort that includes many of the brightest minds in our country to try to reassert our leadership in high-speed computing. Today we will hear firsthand how reestablishing our leadership will enable us not only to address grand scientific challenges, but to advance our manufacturing industry to enhance our U. S. competitiveness in the world marketplace. We will also hear about the need for a commitment by the Federal Government to develop high-performance computing systems and the clear signal that this commitment sends to our computer manufacturers and our universities. We have a distinguished panel of witnesses. I will introduce them in just a few minutes, but first I wanted to invite Senator Bingaman, the ranking member of the Energy Committee and someone who helped encourage my interest in this subject, if he has an opening statement. STATEMENT OF HON. JEFF BINGAMAN, U. S. SENATOR FROM NEW MEXICO Senator Bingaman. Thank you very much, Mr. Chairman. Thank you for your leadership on this issue and for holding this hearing. I do think this is a very important subject. We had a chance to visit on this as we were coming over here from the Capitol just a few minutes ago. The point I made is that this is one of the long poles in the tent, as the saying goes, as far as the ability of the United States to remain a world leader in science and...
