Not illustrated. 1910 Excerpt: .which encourages thrift by a system of postal savings banks. Edward Berwick, President, Postal Progress League of California. Pacific Grove, Cal., June 7, 1909. Those who hold the opinion that many bank depositors would withdraw their money and place it in postal depositories as soon as they were established do not reflect that the people who now have bank accounts are satisfied that their money is safe. If they felt otherwise they would not wait for the establishment of postal savings banks or upon any other contingency before applying for it. The extract quoted below is from the Statesman s Yearbook for 1909. Although the transactions of the British Post-Office Savings Bank are more extensive than those of any other country, this fact does not appear to have had any bad effect upon the business of commercial banks. There were in June, 1908, 53 joint-stock banks...
