This type of publication is almost everything and helped me looking forward and much more. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. You wont really feel monotony at whenever you want of your own time (that's what catalogs are for relating to if you ask me).

Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Pursuant to a congressional request, GAO examined Navy ships steaming activities to determine whether program execution matched its budget justification to Congress. GAO found that the Navy: (1) expressed its ship operation requirements in terms of operating tempo goals representing the percentage of time each calendar quarter that ships were involved in readiness training, exercises, and operations; (2) averaged 50.5 and 29 steaming days each quarter for deployed and nondeployed fleets, respectively, in fiscal year (FY) 1987; (3) funded ship operations through the general purposes forces budget activity of its operations and maintenance appropriation account; (4) identified, in its congressional budget submission, total requested amounts for the general purposes forces activity and for each activity category, including ship operations; (5) had authority to move funds among the various categories within the general purposes forces activity without informing Congress; (6) primarily based its FY 1987 request for $1.65 billion to fund direct ship operating costs on prior FY costs; (7) did not link budgeted requirements and operational expenditures to measures of readiness achievement, and lacked readily measurable mission-related performance objectives describing its expected achievements; and (8) in response to congressional direction, provided some additional data in its FY 1990 budget request and also developed several initiatives to relate steaming day expenditures to readiness.
